A NEW RIB.

Mr. Edward Pollard, a bitter rebel, who edited a leading paper in Richmond during the war, publishes an address to his negro fellow citizens of the South, giving them some reasons why they should vote with the conservative party. Mr. Pollard, like Wade Hampton, comprehended at an early moment how necessary it was to conciliate the negro vote, and in his present address he lays the matter quite clearly and quite flatteringly before his audience. He makes several new points. He claims that the gratitude of the freedmen for their release from slavery should naturally be directed towards the Southern people who suffered by their emancipation, rather than towards the Northern people, who gained by it. The Southern people, he says, have lost two thousand million dollars by your emancipation. Would the North have paid as much to set you free? If it would, why did it not do so long before the war? These are Mr. Pollard's weakest arguments, and we must say that, although designed by a little artful blending of puzzling statistics and abstruse logic to bother mediocre comprehensions into acceptance, they are weak enough. Other arguments which he makes are new and strong. In fact, he shows that the negro is not wanted among the laboring classes of the North, and that he is tabooed among the trades unions, while in the South he is the main dependence for labor. The question of party does not affect his rights, but he must not expect to receive favors from Southern men, whom he abuses while in company with his Northern friends. In short, he wants the negro to see his face against Northern agitators and to join heartily with his old master. The Southern Democracy should have presented these arguments to the negro before. We fear they are too late with them now.

To her accumulated national difficulties, Spain adds the constantly recurring one of a financial deficit. To a country whose available resources are so scanty as those of Spain, a sum equal to $70,000,000 represents a very formidable balance on the wrong side of the account. If those at present at the head of affairs in that unhappy realm would, instead of endeavoring to perpetuate a bankrupt kingdom, only give the experiment a fair trial of a Republic that should pay its way, they would not only merit the eternal gratitude of their fellow-countrymen, but the respect and admiration of the civilized world.

Red Cloud's visit to his Great Father appears to have somewhat nettled the noble savage. It is believed that he is preparing for the war-path, and that he will indulge his native taste in cultivating scalp locks to his fullest extent. Gen. Sheridan reports the posts in his charge to be in a wretched condition. They are able to protect the country from the inroads of the savages. A fill on the plan between Little Phil and Red Cloud is inevitable.

The Count de Juseman Blanco have purchased from Thomas the English steamer Conway, to refit her out as a war vessel to fight against the Monagas party. Affairs in Venezuela are critical. The Juseman party is weak in the country, only the port of Laguayra, which is blockaded by its opponents. The Dutch corvette Honflower and the schooner Arrah-na-Pogue are detained, but Mr. Jessurne has been released. President Juseman has become desperate, and has arms and ammunition by a Dan [illegible]

President Eliot, of Columbia College, in a communication to the New York Evening Post, says the statement that the common belief in the excessive cost of artificially manufactured ice is quite erroneous; that its manufacture has long been profitably carried on in Boston; that it can be manufactured in the country for less than a quarter of a cent per pound, and that it may be delivered to consumers at twenty dollars per ton and the dealer a fair profit. President Barnard has made the study of this subject a specialty, and his statements are therefore not to be lightly held. In view of them the danger of an ice monopoly seems mythical.

Judge Hall, of Texas, will see Hancock's decision in relation to the return to Washington, which is printed as a document urging the pardon of all persons implicated in the late State military commission. Judge Paschal argues from the Declaration of Independence and the bill of rights in the Constitution, and declares that no citizen unconnected with the army or navy can be constitutionally tried by a military commission; that the Reconstruction laws authorizing such trials are in violation of the Constitution, and that it is the duty of the President to release all persons so held.

The Grand Ecclesiastical Council has adopted the form of [illegible], and chapters one and two of the Schema on Primacy and Infallibility. The extreme partisans of Infallibility refuse to concede any alterations, and demand an immediate vote. Some of the Bishops are leaving Rome, especially those from the neighborhood of the Danube. It is thought that the debate on Infallibility will close before the 10th inst.

Judge Guillon has decided in the contested Richmond city election question that the matter of illegal and fraudulent votes cannot be gone into. Had this branch of the case been taken up it would have extended beyond the time for which these officers were elected. The Republicans claim that this decision in effect gives the city officers to their candidates, but the Conservatives still contest the case on the ground of informality in the election.

The 4th passed off quietly in New York and vicinity, without any disturbance of the peace or serious accident from fire or the use of powder. The 1st division of the State Guard, comprising all the city regiments, were reviewed in the morning by Gen. McDowall. Numerous excursions and picnic parties left the city in all directions and the streets were more quiet and orderly than on any other day of the week. In the evening there were extensive displays of fire works in the parks of that city and Brooklyn.

The New Orleans Firemen visiting the North attended a complimentary banquet at the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, Tuesday night, and on Wednesday visited Wilmington. They will arrive in New York Thursday morning. They bring with them a band engine and truck and 5000 words of prizes won in the Carnival. They have received challenges for a test of speed and strength from companies in New York, where they will remain a week.

LETTER FROM BELFAST.

BELFAST, July 5, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

The glorious 4th passed off very pleasantly and successfully in our quiet little city. In the morning the company of infantry paraded the streets, creating much amusement by the grotesqueness of their "get up," the usual quantity of torpedoes and crackers were exploded by young America, and some mature balloons were sent up for the gratification of the crowd. The celebration on the Fair grounds was a successful fair, and being left the society after paying all expenses. The day was cool and favorable for all kinds of out-door exercises. The match game of base ball was played between the Passagassawaukeags and Mazeppas, both of this city, the former beating: score 47 and 27. I understand the Passagassawaukeags will play the Dirigo of Augusta soon for the junior championship of the State.

The foot and sack races came off and the latter was provocative of much laughter. The music for the day, consisted of the old fashioned sort made by the fife and drum.

There were three trots in the afternoon. No extra fast time was made at either. The first was contested by Harrison Hayford's bay stallion "Harry Hartford," and A. J. Dean's gray gelding, "No Name," who won the race. The contestants in the second race were Frank Prescott's, by gelding "Northport" and D. L. Pitcher's brown mare "American Lady," five year old. Won by the latter. There were three contestants on the third race which was won by Thos. Grimley's gray mare.

Railroad matters are as usual. The annual meeting is held to-morrow. The depot buildings are nearly finished. About seven miles of rails are now laid from this city, and it is said another engine is to be put on immediately to run the gravel cars which have just been built here. The ship Alexandria is partly unloaded of her iron, some 5,000 tons having been taken out. It is expected to have the road completed in time to fulfill the terms of the contract with the Maine Central, Nov. 1st.

Political matters are very quiet. But little is said about county candidates. There are however, four candidates for the office of Clerk of Courts. It being quite certain that the present incumbent, if he consents to the nomination, it necessarily follows that there must be three mourners.

The Count, Temperance Association met in quarterly session at Swanville last Wednesday and enjoyed a very pleasant occasion. The Lodge of Good Templars is to be revived here.

Shipbuilding is starting up a little. Carter & Co. will soon commence again. Their yard has been lying idle for a year. McGilvery will soon launch a ship of about a thousand tons, built for Capt. Phin. Pendleton of Searsport. Another will be put in the same yard in a short time.

Farmers in this section have all commenced haying this week. The crop is light. Rain is much needed. The apple crop looks promising. Hoed crops look well for the season. Strawberries are nearly out of the market and bring from 20 to 30 cents per quart.

Q.

NEW MAGAZINES.

Good Words for July has the continuation of "Tempest Court," and "Dorothy Fox," an interesting description of a visit to the Country of the Vaudois, and "A Revenge and a Sea," by Jean Ingelow. "Wanderings in the Desert of the Exodus" and "Letters from the Tropics" will be found interesting.

Good Words for the Young is one of the very best juvenile magazines published, and the July number is not a whit behind its predecessors in interest. "Ronald Bannerman's Boyhood" is continued, Hans Christian Anderson contributes two of his inimitable stories, "Farmer Sharps and His Old Dog Keeper" is a charming poem, by Mary Howitt, while "The Traitor's Cat" is droll enough to make a cat laugh. This and the preceding magazine are published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

The Overland Monthly is at hand in good season as usual, containing among other interesting articles and exquisite poem by California's favorite poet Bret Harte, entitled "Dickens in Camp," a terrible record of the sufferings of the "Donner Party," "Joe of Labania" and a pleasant description of "A First visit to Brook Farm." Published by John H. Carmany & Co., San Francisco.

The Lady's Friend for July is published with a beautiful frontispiece "Summer Hours," an elegant colored fashion plate, pretty tatting pattern for a morning cap, and plenty of wood engravings, patterns for everything in the way of dress. The directions for making paper flowers will interest many, and the literary contents everybody. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

The New England Farmer for July contains much interesting matter, among which reading matter, among which special attention to the department as contains that the owner of a cow who counts his wealth by well to profit by. Post & Co. Boston.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, July 6.

SENATE.

A bill was passed for the relief of the United States and Brazil Steam Navigation Co.

The bill to incorporate a United States freehold land emigration company and to confirm certain proceedings in Colorado was taken up and discussed until the expiration of the morning hour.

The Senate then took up the House land and other appropriation bill.

Mr. Chandler, Chairman of the Committee on Commerce, stated that the Committee had reported back the House bill without amendments.

The bill was reported to the Senate and agreed to. The bill then passed.

The reports of the Conference Committee on the postal appropriation and currency bill were adopted, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the Naval appropriation bill until the recess.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session a bill incorporating the United States Land and Freehold Immigration Co. was passed and the Senate took up the Oriental Steamship Co. bill, to which an amendment was reported by Mr. McDonald, from the Committee on Postoffices, asking 80 acres of land for every ton of steam ship built by the company; the ships to be constructed of American materials, and 80 acres of land for every ton for each naval appropriation collected and maintained by said Company. The land to be located in the Southern States, and scrip to be issued on the completion of each vessel and on the deposit of the bonds of the Southern States in accordance with the terms of the bill, 100,000 acres of land to be issued for each $100,000 of bonds.

The amendment was discussed, severely criticised and finally withdrawn.

The bill was recommitted to the Committee on Postoffices.

Mr. Sumner called up the bill for refunding into Massachusetts the interest on advances made to the United States during the war of 1812 and 1815.

Mr. Bayard said he had always believed that any claim on the part of Massachusetts for services in the war of 1812 should be presented to the British Government instead of the United States.

Mr. Sherman said that after 50 years a claim was always for compound interest, was to be settled upon the U. S. Treasury the mere persistency.

After remarks by Messrs. Sumner and Hamlin, the bill passed, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Rawes of Mass., from the Com. on Appropriations, reported the deficiency bill, which was made a special order for to-morrow. The bill appropriates $1,725,488, excluding $1,000,000 for the expenses of taking the census.

Mr. Cessna of Pa., from the Com. on Elections, made a report in the Kentucky contested election case of Reid against Beck, that Beck, the sitting member, was duly elected and entitled to retain his seat, and that Reid the contestant, should be paid the expenses incurred by him.

Mr. Randall of Pa. presented the minority report taking the opposite view.

Mr. Julian of Ind., from the Com. on Public Lands, reported a bill repealing the act of June 1860, which confirms a grant of certain lands to Jose Domingos in California. The bill was passed without opposition.

The Post-office route bill and a bill authorizing the issuing of a patent for certain land in Michigan to Stephen Marston of Hartford County, and making Arizona Territory a separate surveying district, with a Surveyor-General's office therein, were passed.

The bill to vacate Fort Dearborn Military Reservation, and the Senate bill to create a port of delivery at Duluth, Minn., was amended by attaching the Duluth collection district of Lake Superior, instead of New Orleans, and were passed.

The bill to pay $25,000 to two daughters of John Wood, the inventor of the cast-iron plough, was by suspension of the rules passed 108 to 54.

Mr. Dawes from the Com. on Appropriations, reported back the Senate bill to carry into effect the decree of the District Court for the Southern District of N. Y., of March 1868, in the case of the English schooner Boyd and her cargo, which was signed by Secretary of the Treasury Stanton, was passed; also similar bills in the case of the British schooner Flying Scud and cargo and the British brig Dashing Wave and cargo under the decrees of the Court in Louisiana. Like bills were also passed in case of British vessels Volante, Science, Labror and L. S. Davis.

During the pending of the bills Mr. Butler, of Mass., expressed his unwillingness to vote for them, which within the last week six American fishing vessels have been captured by British war vessels and carried into Canadian ports. The aggregate amount appropriated in these bills was $685 882, with interest.

The Conference Committee's report on the Pension Appropriation Bill, was agreed to.

The remainder of the session was occupied in the consideration of the resolutions of the Judiciary Committee in the case of Patrick Woods, now in custody, for assaulting Mr. Potter, the member from Virginia.

Without vote the House adjourned.

The Currency Bill, as passed by the United States Senate this afternoon, provides for the issuing of $54,000,000 of currency, and the retiring of only $43,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds. The clause providing for free banking on a gold basis was retained.

Samuel J. Randall has been appointed Chairman of the Resident Democratic Congressional Committee.

The House Committee's report of the investigation of Reynolds Wood's charges against Gen. O. O. Howard will this week be submitted. The report exculpates General Howard, so far as he is individually concerned. Representative Rogers will present the minority report, which is strongly in condemnation of Gen. Howard.

CHEYENNE, July 6.

Red Cloud and his band are camped on Tongue River, north of Fetterman, and it is believed he is collecting the tribes for the purpose of waging war on the whites.

The Cheyennes killed three white men at Sweet Water River recently, and the Arapahoes stole forty head of stock near the South Pass. One of the Arapahoes was killed during the fight. All of the Northern Cheyennes and Arapahoes who have hitherto been peaceable, announce their intention to go on the war path soon.

Capt. Dawes has returned from Rawlin, having found on the war path, 100 miles south of that point, a camp of Utes, who probably committed the recent depredations near the Pacific Railroad.

—Saturday the Portland Board of Aldermen passed an order authorizing the City Treasurer to pay the moneys to pay Bonds and Coupons issued by the city in aid of the Androscoggin and St. Lawrence Railroad Company, payable on the first day of July, 1870. Bonds were issued previous to Feb. 1, 1854, and their payment was guaranteed by the Androscoggin and Kennebec Railway Co. They have become due and the Company has proposed to pay them in currency—the holders, however, demand their payment in gold.

—The Bonds, according to the decision of the Supreme Court, are payable in gold. The Press says that the City Government proposes to pay them according to the decision, and to receive the currency from the Androscoggin Railroad Co., under protest, and take such measures as may be necessary to recover from the company the difference between currency and gold.

—We learn that the Paper Mill at Lisbon Falls, owned by the Messrs. Parsons of New York, and Hon. A. G. Denison of Mechanic Falls, which was destroyed by fire on Friday last, was insured for $48,000. Policies were placed through the agency of Mr. Parsons, one of the Messrs. Parsons who resides in New York at the time, went into the insurance office where the mill was already insured for $25,000, and asked for an additional insurance of $10,000, which request was granted, a survey by the underwriters had been made, was immediately granted. A few hours afterwards, a dispatch was received from Mr. Denison stating that the mill was burned.

Mr. Parsons at once went back to the insurance office and stated the facts.—The officers informed him that the additional insurance was good, and upon his signing a check for the premium, the policy was handed to him. The fire caught in the Dressing Room from matches or some other combustible in the machinery or paper, and spread like a flash of lightning all over the room—indeed so rapidly that it was almost impossible for the persons in the room to escape.—The owners of the mill were at Lisbon yesterday, making preparations for rebuilding immediately.

Ferguson, J. H. Kaler and Wm. H. Burtiff were chosen Directors. Axel Hayford was subsequently elected President; W. T. Colburn Treasurer, and John H. Quimby Clerk. There is no doubt of the completion of the road in November; the grading is nearly finished, all the iron has been delivered, and ten miles of the track are already laid.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

The following is a copy of a letter received from B. P. Curtis, Esq., Gen'l Agent of the Buckeye Mower, by Messrs. R. B. Dunning & Co., of this city:

AUBURN, July 4, 1870.

Messrs. R. B. Dunning & Co.—Gentlemen: You have no doubt seen the advertisement in the Maine Farmer, of Mr. M. E. Rice of Stetson, Gen'l Agent for the Advance Mower, offering $3,000 to any person for the production of a Mower possessing as many good qualities as the Advance.

In view of this extremely low standing which the machine took at Amherst, Mass., and which it has taken at every trial before intelligent tribunals, I can but question both the sincerity of the man and his financial responsibility, and I more strongly suspect his stock we of truth by the statement that the "Advance won't over 100 soldiers sold last year," when the fact is the Advance never took a gold medal, and probably never will.

A series of trials have instituted at different points in the State, using a dynamometer where the Buckeye's record for draft seemed to require it, and in each of these instances every inducement that could has been offered to get the machine into the field; but so far it has been unsuccessful, and will be held here to-day, which has long been known, and of which notice was given to their agents here and through them to Mr. Rice, and arrangement was fairly made with the parties here to enter for trial; but they fail back from the agreement in a way worthy only of rascals.

You being nearer to Mr. Rice than any other of our agents, I want to ask you to look a little to his standing, and, if responsible, to make arrangements with him for me to meet him in the field at the earliest possible time. I want the $2,500, and shall get it if he is good for it.

Your, truly,

E. P. CURTIS.

Our readers, in search of a superior Portable Steam Engine, are referred to the card of T. C. Hoadley & Co., in this paper. Over eight hundred of these engines are in use, sold within the past thirteen years, and every one, without exception, so far as known, comes to give entire satisfaction. The demand is so urgent that Mr. J. C. H. & Co. have been constantly driven to fill their orders; but have recently enlarged their works, and are now able to fill all orders promptly. All engines warranted satisfactory or no sale.

The AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston, has large and airy family rooms, quiet and retired, although in the central business and place of amusement. The horse has no superior in New England.

The Committee on Majestic Dedication request all persons having bills against the aforesaid to present them immediately.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

THE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD.

Extending and running from RICHMOND, Va., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Va., 227 miles. It is being built by extension to the Ohio River, 200 miles further, making in all 427 miles.

In its progress it will open and penetrate the rich mineral region of the Kanawha Region in West Virginia and Kentucky, the superior and abundant coals of that region into communication with the Iron Ores of Virginia and Ohio, and the Western, South Western and Eastern markets.

When completed it will connect the superior harbor facilities of the Chesapeake Bay with rail communication on the Ohio River, and the whole system of Railroad and Water transportation of the great West and South-West.

It will make a short, easy, cheap and favorable route from the West to the sea, and will command a large share of the enormous freight now passing to the east.

It will thus become one of most important and profitable East and West Trunk Lines of Railroad in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

POETRY.

THE INSECT BOOK.

Respectfully dedicated to the author of the forthcoming Book of the Skoodonosmokook.

We have got the Arabian Nights,
And of course we will not say a pretty book;
But A Mesbia has of dreamed of silver as fair
As the stream that we call the Ammonoosuckook?

When we read of his world-renowned voyages,
We are not expected to say Cook;
But never discovered Canada can retreat,
On the beautiful river Ammonoosuckook!

Why [illegible] has read of his jokes,
What drew that Thunderer was a witty Hook;
But [illegible] has been better, I suspect,
Than [illegible] on the river Ammonoosuckook!

In [illegible] we watched at our leisure
Sporting fish as o'er bit a book,
And [illegible] then up fresh on our table,
Nice [illegible] of the river Ammonoosuckook.

Con[illegible] it us, reader, and see for yourself—
We are [illegible] to permit a joke,
At [illegible] beautiful river, so [illegible] named—
The [illegible], the charming Ammonoosuckook!

CRUELTY TO BOY ACROBATS.

The Hanlon Brothers are now performing at the Alhambra, London, and their performances suggest the following remarks to the editor of the London Orchestra:

The peril to which a little boy is put is absolutely cruel. Three acrobats—two grown up, one a child of eight or nine—are concerned in it. A net of cotton cord, which may break at any time is stretched across the stage. About thirty feet above the net is a frame of some thirty feet long. At either end of this are short stirrups, by which the older brothers hang head downwards. The boy takes his place in the middle, standing upon the frame. One of the brothers now begins to swing, and the boy leaps from that at the precise moment, and his hands are caught by those of the swinging man, and the two swoop backwards and fowards in regular motion. The other brother now begins to swing, and the boy is thrown from one to the other, sometimes caught by the hands, sometimes by the ankles, sometimes thrown, a somersault, sometimes two, sometimes in his flight from one to the other. It is nothing short of marvellous, but though done with apparent ease the risk is alarming. The extreme difficulty of the feat can be readily understood by all who have acquaintance with feats of the trapeze. In ordinary trapeze feats the ropes are of so great a length that the arc of a circle described by the performer is so flat as thereby to give the performer the advantage of the circle described by the trapeze-bar for a considerable distance, and he can catch it whether it meets him at the level of his chest, face, or the extreme stretch of his arms over his head. In the short swings made by the Hanlons, the radius of which is only their own length and the two additional feet of the stirrup rope, it is necessarily only for a moment that the swinger can be in a position to catch the hands of the flying boy, the mistake of a fifth of a second in his swing would hand him out of reach. The full knowledge of this is required for the full appreciation of this marvellous feat. The performance is terminated by the boy ascending to a still higher level over the centre of the frame, and from this he leaps something like twenty feet down before he is caught by the hands of the swinging brother.

We need hardly point out how imminent the risk of accident to this poor boy is, as he swings through the air. Unnatural development of his muscles have already stunted him broadened his chest, and given his frame an abnormal hardness. He had been two years and a half learning and practicing these feats, and is perfectly fearless, having never during the whole training hurt himself in the slightest degree. But even supposing he does not break his neck, which may happen at any moment, the effects of such severe training at his early age may be ruinous hereafter. Public opinion should check such repulsive sights, if the law will not.

SOLDIERS OF 1861.

$100 Bounty.

The Supreme Court of the United States has just decided that all officers who enlisted under the first call of the President, or to July 22d, 1861, and who were honorably discharged upon a Surgeon's certificate of disability, are entitled to a bounty of $100.

This bounty has been refused to Soldiers who served less than two years, unless discharged on account of wounds. Under this decision, it will be paid to those discharged by reason of disease.

We are authorized to procure this bounty, and will collect it for those entitled, promptly, and at the lowest rates.

Applications will be sent by mail upon request, to those who cannot call at our office. Those for whom we have not previously done business will please forward their discharges to us, and we will send the money after collection.

All those claiming will accompany it with Deposition, and there will be the policy of sending their discharges early, in order that their applications may be filed immediately.

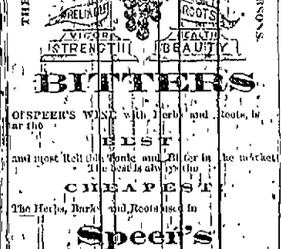
NOYES'

PATENT HAND WEEDER.



This new and valuable labor saving implement is now offered to the public with the most confident assurance that, as an effective weeder, it will do as much work for the agriculturist or florist as [illegible]

That we do not over state its merits will appear from the following quotation from a recent letter of Peter Henderson, the well known seed-man and florist, of Bergen, N. J. "I think it decidedly the best thing I have ever used, in the way of a weeder. My old foreman, who has for the past twelve years been at the head of my vegetable department, though strongly prejudiced against all "patents," says, 'He will save at least 50 per cent. of labor in weeding.' I think it will do even better than that, particularly in root crops, that require thinning out, such as beets, turnips, onions, parsnips or carrots."

Ladies who cultivate flower gardens will find the "Weeder" to be just the thing to relieve the labor and drudgeries from the pleasure of their employment among the plants and flowers. For Sale by all Seed and Hardware Stores. ALBERT NOYES.
